Learning by Doing: 2025-26 Fall Teen Conservation Intern Reflections

Last October, Napa RCD proudly welcomed three Fall 2025 Teen Conservation Interns to the team. As we prepare to say goodbye, we want to extend our sincere thanks to these interns for the energy, care, and fresh perspectives they brought to our team. Click the link below to read reflections on their experiences and what it meant to make a positive environmental difference in their own backyard.

Winegrape Vineyard Nitrogen Management Survey

The California State Water Resources Control Board is working on setting guidelines for nitrogen use in farming, including limits on how much nitrogen can be applied and requirements for reporting. To ensure these guidelines are based on actual farming practices, vineyard growers are asked to take a 15-minute survey about their current nitrogen management practices. Your answers will help shape future policies and make sure they fit the unique needs of North Coast farms.
